1935 FOOTBALL SEASON

The close of the 1935 season found the Highlander football team holding a record of four victories, five defeats, and one tie, with two triumphs, two losses, and the tie being registered within Smoky Mountain Conference competition.

After losing the opener to Kentucky at Lexington in a game which left a mark on the squad the remainder of the season by way of injuries, the Highlanders came back to defeat Hiwassee, Tusculum, and Lenoir-Rhyne in a row on the home field. Away from home again, the Scots were tied by King, following which the championship Cumberland eleven stopped the locals on the Maryville gridiron. Tennessee Wesleyan also won over the Highlanders on Wilson Field, but the Scots came back to halt the favored East Tennessee Teachers in Johnson City. Coach Honaker's crew had the distinction of being the first team to score on a powerful Middle Tennessee Teachers machine, which went through the season undefeated and untied, and then dropped a thrilling battle to Carson-Newman on Thanksgiving Day, with one long run providing the margin of victory for the Eagles.

Second Row—Coach Honaker, Coulter, Bagby, Millsaps, Atchison, Pieper, Gamble, Hall, Renfro, Johnson, Holloway, Holaday, Proffitt, Henry, Alexander, Remine, assistant manager.

GRAY

CAPTAIN O'NEAL GRAY
Senior—End

Superb defensive performance and all-around play in every game stamped O'Neal Gray, honored by the squad with the captaincy, as one of the greatest ends in Maryville football history. Recognized as one of the outstanding players in the Smoky Mountain Conference, this alert, hard-smashing wingman was placed on the first team in most All-Conference selections.

ALTERNATE CAPTAIN FRANK ATCHISON
Senior—Guard

Steady, consistent play at guard featured "Butter" Atchison's work throughout the season, earning him a second team position on virtually every All-Conference eleven selected. Recognition of his ability by the team was in the form of election to the alternate captain position.

JACK OVERLY
Junior—Fullback

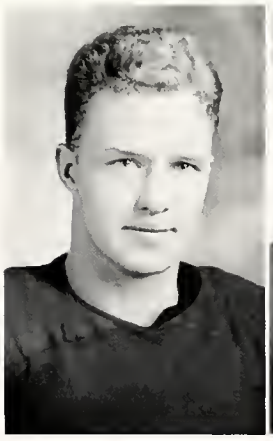
Ripping through enemy lines, blocking for halfbacks on end sweeps, backing up his own line on defense, kicking extra points, and catching passes are a few of the things Jack Overly does on the gridiron. Perhaps best remembered this year for his sensational play in scoring 21 of the 27 points amassed over Hiwassee. One more season.

JOHN HENRY
Junior—End

On the receiving end of the famous "Hulette to Henry" passing combination, John Henry helped pave the way to many a Highlander touchdown and provided a large share of the thrills to the spectators with his finger-tip catches of seemingly unreachable spirals. His basketball ability proved of great value on the gridiron.

MOSE GAMBLE
Senior—Tackle

Weighing 215 pounds, the heaviest man on the squad, Mose Gamble used the tremendous power accompanying his huge size to the best advantage. Few Lenoir-Rhyne players will forget soon his crushing tactics both on offense and defense in one of the greatest games of his career. Conference honorable mention.



ATCHISON

OVERLY

GAMBLE

WILBUR LOESSBERG

Senior—Halfback

One of the toughest breaks suffered by a Highlander athlete was experienced by Wilbur Loessburg when, in the first few minutes of the opening game of his last year at Maryville, he received a severe knee injury which kept him out of the line-up the rest of the season. Wilbur had been counted on to do a large share of the ball carrying this season and his loss was a tremendous blow to the team.

Sophomore—Center

Shifted from center to end and back, "Gid" Johnson proved that one man can successfully play two positions. A fast charger and a vicious blocker and tackler. We expect great things of him again next fall.

ARCHIBALD PIEPER

Senior—Guard

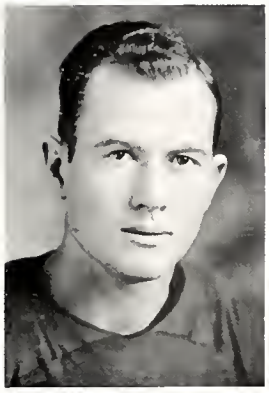
Getting his chance to show his real ability late in the season, "Archie" Pieper came through with such an aggressive, hard-charging style of guard play that Coaches Honaker and Thrower placed him on their All-Conference team. Other lists included his name either on the second team or among the honorable mentions.

STANLEY SHIELDS

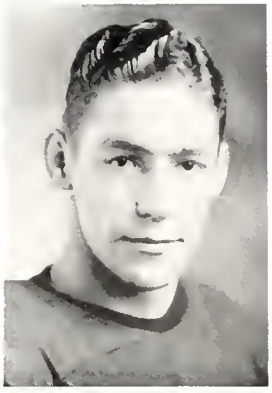
Junior—Quarterback

Signals! The snap! A 140-pound back ploughing into a 190-pound line! He is in the clear! Ten—fifteen—twenty yards! Diminutive "Skeeter" Shields bounces up and grins at the tackler. His fighting spirit and cool head carried him to a place on the second All-Conference team. He should be one of the outstanding performers on the squad next season.

LOESSBERG PIEPER JOHNSON SHIELDS



HOLLOWAY



BLAZER

JAMES HOLLOWAY
Senior—Guard

One of the reasons the guard posts were among the best fortified on the team. Jim Holloway was noted especially for the big holes he opened in opposing lines and for steady defense. With his best season in prospect, Jim was injured near the close and was unable to reach top condition again.

LAMAR BLAZER
Senior—Quarterback

"Toots" Blazer's great performance against Lenoir-Rhyne will long be remembered. His was the honor of playing the most quarters this year and he filled every quarter with fifteen minutes of thrills and action, both by his superb field generalship and his peppery spirit. After four years on the varsity, his position will be hard to fill next fall.

LYNN CRAWFORD
Junior—Halfback

Consistent, yet flashy, "Corky" Crawford's long strides and extraordinary sidestepping made opponents shiver. He was equally good at ball carrying and running interference for another back. His election to the captaincy for next year brightens the 1936 grid outlook.

ALBERT HULETTE
Sophomore—Halfback

An accurate passer and a powerful punter, "Chick" Hulette was a very valuable cog in the Highlander gridiron machine this year. His deadly tossing was the chief factor in making the pass attack the best offensive weapon the Highlanders possessed.

BRUCE ALEXANDER
Junior—End

Although injuries and an appendicitis operation kept Bruce Alexander out of the line-up for several contests, he played so well while in the game that he received conference honorable mention. Gains were seldom made around his end, and punt returners frequently found themselves downed before getting out of their tracks.

LEON MILLSAPS
Senior—Tackle

Handicapped by lack of weight, "Buck" Millsaps put every one of his 175 pounds behind every tackle and every block he made. Opponents forgot they outweighed him twenty pounds after the first few plays. The "Millsaps and Gamble, tackles," after four years in the starting line-ups, will be sorely missed next fall.

MILLSAPS

Sophomore—Halfback

His first year in the backfield, with no high school experience, "Junior" Odell developed into the best kicker on the squad, and his booming punts saved the Highlanders on numerous occasions. He also showed ability as a passer and a pass receiver, and with another year of experience should become a really great back.

JAMES RENFRO
Junior—Center

A man to be depended on to stop plays, and to put spirit into his comrades, "Jim" Renfro passed to the spot and then disposed of opposition. Always a grin, and a never-say-die spirit. He made the conference second team and is co-captain next year.

JAMES RICH
Junior—Halfback

Being one of the smallest men on the squad did not worry "Jimmy" Rich when his interference was able to stay in front of him. His speed, used to advantage in track also, and elusiveness received much high praise, especially in the game with Kentucky. Perhaps playing in his home state was an added incentive!

WILLIAM HOLADAY
Junior—Guard

In earning his third letter in three years, "Bill" Holaday played the same hard, aggressive game exhibited during his first two seasons. With three first-rate guards graduating this year, he will be depended upon for even more work in the middle of the line next season. Handles himself well in spite of 195 pounds in considerably less than six feet of height.

ODELL RENFRO RICH HOLADAY

TOLLTON COULTER

Junior—End

An early injury kept "Toll" Coulter on the bench the first part of the season, but he came back to his old style of play toward the season's end. On defense, his work in the last three or four games was exceptionally good, and when the Scotties had the ball many an opposing tackle found himself bottled up on end runs.

JAMES PROFFITT

Sophomore—Tackle

Acting as understudy to Millsaps and Gamble at tackle gives a player little opportunity to start a game, but "Jim" Proffitt showed his ability whenever reserve strength was needed. The steady work exhibited by him on several occasions, aided by ten or fifteen pounds added to his 165 pounds of this season, indicate that the tackle post will be well taken care of again next year.

JACK DUNN

Freshman—Tackle

The fact that he was the only freshman to win a letter in a line consisting of juniors and seniors indicates Jack Dunn's ability as a tackle. Jack showed rapid development as the season progressed and turned in some excellent performances in the last few games. His 195 pounds is expected to be a mainstay in next year's line.

ROBERT JACKSON

Freshman—Halfback

One of the two freshmen who lettered their first year out, "Bob" Jackson stepped in at fullback when Overly was injured and proved his worth with outstanding defensive play and extraordinarily hard-driving power for a 150-pounder. The injury jinx caught up with him too, however, and a weak knee handicapped him most of the season.

THE 1936 SEASON

Continuing the victorious streak established last year, the 1936 Highlander cage squad turned back their opponents for ten wins in a twelve-game Smoky Mountain Conference schedule. Handicapped early in the season by the loss of John Henry, ace forward, the Scot basketeers recovered, and with two freshman forwards, the quintet became the smooth-working machine that turned back opposition time after time.

The Scotties tallied fourteen wins and six losses in their entire 1936 cage season. Since none of the varsity men are lost by graduation this year, prospects for the next season are of the best. The construction of this championship aggregation for the second successive year is a tribute to the coaching skill of L. S. Honaker, mentor of the 1936 basketball five.

BASKETBALL LETTERMEN

HANNAH

The player around whom the whole Maryville attack was centered. High point man and one of the outstanding performers in the Smoky Mountain Conference.

OVERLY

Strong point on defense and a great floor man. He shoots that ball into the right player's hands at just the right time.

HULETTE

Shifty and fast, with no equal at drawing defense away from the loop. Came to the varsity this year from the reserves. Two more years to hear from him.

ODELL

Saves the Highlanders many points by taking the ball off the backboard after a missed shot. Guards closely and handles the ball well.

BAIRD

Dependable as forward or guard, this Freshman basketeer filled a big vacancy on the Scot squad with the ease of a four-year man. Tough as they come.

McGILL

Scrappy and fast, the Freshman find of the season. Teamed with Captain Hannah to form the smoothest and most unbeatable scoring combination on the floor.

THE 1935 SEASON

One of the most powerful baseball teams assembled by Coach Honaker in several years pounded its way through the 1935 season to win the Smoky Mountain Conference championship with 10 victories in 12 conference games, and laid claim to the state title with 13 triumphs in 15 contests. Against all opposition for the season, the Highlanders won 19 games while losing only 4.

Coach Honaker once more showed his coaching genius by molding this championship combination from six regulars of a mediocre 1934 team, bolstered by the return of two players who were absent the year before, and filling in the other positions with first-year men.

The strength of the 1935 outfit is further indicated by the fact that five Highlanders were honored on the All-Conference team. Jim Holloway, slugging outfielder, who led the batters with a phenomenal .425 mark; Dick Corns, stellar first baseman, and Glen Evers, sturdy catcher, were awarded places on the first team, while Lamar "Toots" Blazer and John Henry tied for the utility infield position.

While heavy hitting by the entire team, which boasted five regulars hitting over .325, featured the season's play, the pitching staff, composed of Ralph Hand, who won six games without a loss, Frank "Butter" Atchison, Ralph Ashby, and Carl Evers, was one of the strong points in the Highlander machine.

The 1935 Highlander track team upheld the Maryville tradition on the cinder path by winning three out of four dual meets, swamping all opponents in the first annual Smoky Mountain Conference meet and placing second in the annual state gathering, the T. I. A. A. meet. Coach Bob Thrower's men lost only to the powerful University of Tennessee squad, going down before the Vols both in a dual meet and in the state assembly.

Triumphs were registered over the University of Chattanooga, Lincoln Memorial University, and Emory-Henry, with the Scots piling up 280 points in these three conflicts to 93 for the opponents. In the first conference meet, organized chiefly through Coach Thrower's efforts, the locals encountered little difficulty, and overwhelmed the other competitors. The state meet found Tennessee on the long end of the score again, but the Highlanders came in ahead of such teams as Sewanee and Southeastern to win second place.

In establishing such an excellent record, Scot tracksters broke two college records and tied another. Wilbur Loessburg twice broke the broad jump record, clearing 22 feet 4½ inches on the second occasion, while Gid Johnson hurled the discus 118 feet 4 inches to break a record which had stood since 1925. Ed Lavender accomplished the other record feat when he tied the pole vault mark of 11 feet 2 inches.

Winning three of the six scheduled matches for the season, the 1936 Highlander mat squad claimed for the fifth successive year the title of state wrestling champions.

Handicapped by the loss of Garry Ridder and George Hoglan, star grapplers of last year, the Scots were turned back in two matches with Appalachian State Teachers and one with Davidson. Excellent new material developed near the close of the season, however, and with the return of Propst, Battaglia, and Meares, the coming season should be one of the best.

Buck Millsaps, ace 175-pound grappler, was elected captain of the squad for the past season. Millsaps and Gamble, heavyweight, will be lost to the Highlanders next year, leaving positions that will be hard to fill.

"For to me to live is Christ"

For nearly sixty years the aim of the Y. W. C. A. of Maryville College has been to help to establish strong Christian manhood. This year the "Y" has been striving to carry on its best traditions.

All activities center in the spirit of the Sunday afternoon meetings. There the motto, "For to me to live is Christ," is clearly emphasized in the varied programs, rich in value and in earnest endeavor to understand the problems of the day. Student discussions, musical programe, and addresses by faculty members and by prominent speakers from other places are featured in the programs.

The other Y. M. C. A. activities promote genuine friendship and fellowship among the students. Mountain hikes, interclass athletics, tournaments in checkers, handball, and ping-pong, and fellowship banquets aid in the carrying out of this program.

The Y. M. C. A. seeks to cooperate with the college administration in the orientation of new students to Maryville College life and ideals, and in its efforts to develop Christian character.

Since its founding in 1894, the Y. W. C. A. has been a vital force on the campus. Time has wrought many changes in the program of the organization, but the original ideal of higher Christian living has never been lost.

The varied activities of the association give opportunities for service in many types of work. Among the most familiar of these are the Sunday afternoon worship services, the Nu Gamma Sigma groups, the Big Sister movement, and participation in the East Tennessee Interracial Commission. Of no less importance is the work done by the Y. W. C. A. in the town orphanage, mission, and negro library, and in sponsoring women's athletics on the campus. Prayer groups are conducted each week in the women's dormitories under the leadership of the Y. W. C. A.

Occasional joint meetings are held with the Y. M. C. A., and the two organizations unite in publishing the "M" Handbook and in sponsoring the Artists' Series.

To broaden our viewpoint, delegates are sent to the State Student Conference, the East Tennessee Interracial Conference, and to the Blue Ridge Conference for Southern colleges and universities. A larger vision of Christian living is gained by membership in the World's Student Christian Association.

NU GAMMA SIGMA

Nu Gamma is an important part of the Y. W. C. A. program for the orientation of new girls. Its purpose is to help the new girls know Maryville and fit into the activities on college hill. The Nu Gamma leaders have the very interesting task of meeting the new girls, making them like Maryville, helping them form friendships, and giving them the background and activities among which they will live while they are here at Maryville.

The Ministerial Association was organized thirty-five years ago, and has had a vital part in the school's religious life. Its purpose has been the promoting of Christian fellowship among students who are candidates for the ministry, and the providing of varied opportunities to its members for definite Christian service. This purpose has been achieved in the program of the association during the past year.

Fellowship has been extended through the agency of the regular weekly meetings, which have been a source of spiritual enrichment and refreshment. An effort has been made to stress the importance of a daily devotional period, and the essentials of the Christian faith.

The active work of the association is carried on through four committees, the country church, the jail, the alms-house, and the mission committees. Every member is associated with one of these committees and through it is given experience in many situations similar to those which will later confront him in the ministry.

Every Sunday evening the Student Volunteer Group meets to express, develop, and educate the missionary spirit on the campus. The programs provide opportunity for prospective home and foreign missionaries to learn about life on the fields and to prepare themselves adequately for missionary work.

The activity and growth of the group has necessitated its moving into the parlor of the Y. W. C. A.

This year the group has sponsored a weekly Bible and Mission Study Class, Library, World-Mindedness Bulletin Board, and a Scripture Bulletin Board.

Maryville was represented at the Quadrennial Convention at Indianapolis by nine delegates.

Maryville has the distinction of having the Tennessee Alpha Chapter of the National Forensic Society, Pi Kappa Delta, and debating and other forms of forensic art have a prominent place in the extra-curriculer activity on the campus. This year sixteen students comprised the varsity debate squad, which participated in twenty debates besides taking part in the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Rock Hill, South Carolina, the National Convention at Houston, Texas, and the state tournament at Nashville.

THETA EPSILON OFFICERS

THETA EPSILON SOCIETY

Maryville College would not be complete without its societies, and the societies would not be complete without Theta Epsilon's spirit and influence. For forty-two years that influence has been outstanding on the campus.

We are proud of Theta Epsilon! That is the sentiment in the heart of every Theta girl, and that praise is well deserved. From September until June the society is represented in the dramatic, athletic, musical, and social activities of the campus. The successful achievements in each of these fields warm each member's heart with pride.

In the weekly society meetings there exists a spirit of fellowship and cooperation. Each girl is encouraged to present her talent and ability in the programs presented at these meetings. Great opportunity for improvement and fuller development is afforded each girl.

We look upon Theta Epsilon's accomplishments with pride. We are willing to meet the challenge of past victories and strive for greater attainments in the future. May Theta Epsilon continue to be successful!

ALPHA SIGMA SOCIETY

Chartered in 1882 for the unadorned appreciation of literature, Alpha Sigma has since altered its course, making of itself a unique society, participating in all the rounded activities: drama, music, debate, athletics, scholastic endeavors, and lofty pursuits. When the achievements of Alpha Sigma men in all these diverse fields are considered, an informal atmosphere, with a touch of the cosmopolitan, is evident, raising the activities of the group somewhat above mere entertainment or pastime.

Besides the orientation of new Maryville men, the society has added in no slight manner to the general program of college activities by securing and sponsoring the visits of distinguished individuals, as well as by arranging for the frequent visits of various faculty members.

Alpha Sigma is typified by its sons about the campus, by the spirit in its assemblies, by the cooperation and sincere interest of its members, and by its deep and abiding respect for art, literature, good music, and drama. Carried onward by this spirit and continued success in campus life, Alpha Sigma will, henceforth as in the past, contribute her part to Maryville College.

BAINONIAN SOCIETY OFFICERS

BAINONIAN SOCIETY

"Our strong bond can ne'er be broken, sealed by friendship's tie."

After sixty-one years, from one end of the country to the other, and then some, Bainonians chant these lines.

Greeted in the fall in a typical warm Southern way by their older sisters, new Bainonians soon find their way successfully into journalism, athletics, forensics, dramatics, art, and all other college activities, and until the week in June when Bainonian sends her graduates off, confident of their great value to society in the world at large, a deep feeling of friendship among the members and a pronounced loyalty to Maryville prevail.

The regular Saturday evening Bainonian meetings are at times deeply impressive and at times simply snappy! Occasional joint meetings with the brother society, Athenian, add to the richness and enjoyment of Bainonian life.

Proud of her good work so far, Bainonian looks forward to greater accomplishments in the many happy years of cooperative friendships which lie before her.

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY OFFICERS

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

For sixty-eight years, Athenian, pioneer of the four societies, has held a definite outstanding place in campus life. This year, as in the past, the same spirit and co-operative comradeship has prevailed among the members, who realize it is an honor to have one's name included on the roster of the society.

Athenian members can be found at the very head of most collegiate undertakings. The presidents of the Y. M. C. A., the Student Volunteer Group, the Ministerial Association, the Sophomore Class, the Law Club, the captain-elect of the football team, and the editor of the Highland Echo are members of the society.

The programs presented in the regular Saturday evening meetings of Athenian characterize the literary spirit which prompted the founding of the society. During the year, sketches from the music of Stephen Foster, the literary works of Booth Tarkington, Rudyard Kipling, and the poets of the South appeared on the programs.

The dramatic attainments of the past years are attested by the triumph of "The Goose Hangs High" in 1934, winner of the Theta Alpha Phi dramatic cup, and the memorable performance of Booth Tarkington's "The Man From Home" in 1935.

For the third year Athenian has sponsored a Short Story and Play Contest. This has been made an annual feature of the activities of the society. The winning stories and plays are read each year as one of the outstanding programs.

The fellowship of Athenian and the friendships formed in the society will remain vivid in the memory when college days are past.

EXPRESSION DEPARTMENT

The Expression Department of Maryville College offers three years of intensive dramatic study wherein training is given in the fields of voice, action, reading, dramatization, Bible reading, Shakespeare, and story-telling. This training is given in order to cultivate the power to appreciate and interpret standard literature, and to secure naturalness in the development of individual powers of expression. This department has gained the superior standing it now holds among colleges and universities because of the enthusiastic efforts of Mrs. Nita Eckles West and Miss Wilhelmina Holland.

The graduates of the Expression Department are to be congratulated, and it is hoped that they will receive the same recognition that many of the former graduates have received in their various fields of dramatic work.

THE EXPRESSION GRADUATES

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

This department of the college has for its purpose the laying of a firm technical foundation that will lead to the expression of the highest musical thought and emotion. To that end courses are offered in piano, voice, and violin, together with courses in theory and harmony, and history and appreciation.

Miss Hale is instructor in advanced piano and harmony, with Mrs. Snelson as assistant. Miss Henry is in charge of the department of voice and also directs the Vesper Choir and the two Glee Clubs. Miss Butcher teaches violin and has charge of the College Band and College Orchestra.

Several times during the year the department presents concerts and recitals which are popular features on the college calendar.

THE VESPER CHOIR

The Vesper Choir, composed of forty-one singers under the direction of Miss Frances Henry, is of invaluable service to the religious life of the college. In addition to singing at all Sunday evening vesper services, two concerts were given this year. Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," on December 15, 1935, and on March 29, 1936, the oratorio, "The Holy City," by Gaul.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club initiated its activities with a radio broadcast comparatively early in the school year. On February 3, 1936, a program including numbers, ranging from classical to fantasy, was presented in concert. There followed later in the spring the opera produced by the combined glee clubs and orchestra.

Such is the summary of the year's major activities. The benefits, however, of the time spent in rehearsal and in singing lie in the companionship and sympathetic accord created by the necessity for harmonic cooperation and the realization of the value of music which each girl can now claim for herself.

The Home Economics students of Maryville College, realizing the need of an intelligent attitude toward Home Economics, founded this club in order to create a broader view of the field, to form a link between school and home, and to provide opportunity to carry out projects not included in the curriculum.

The Home Economics Club was founded in 1930 with twenty-one charter members. The club has grown until now it has fifty members. It is composed of Home Economics majors and others who are taking Home Economics courses. The club is supervised by Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz and Miss Mary Rachel Armstrong.

Each semester the club sponsors open house teas, camping trips, banquets, displays of famous paintings, and the publishing of the Betty Lamp, a letter containing Home Economics news which is sent to all former Home Economics graduates.

The club meets every other week and aids in creating friendships among all the students of the Home Economics department.
